“...exploring the fascinating world of herd dynamics by taking a view, from the hoof...”

Tap into the many years of research and innovations from within the magical world of herd dynamics that have taken me on quite a lifetime journey of discovery. I am eager to share with you in conversation style these educational seminars and herd dynamic tutorials, where the goal is a fun, informative and interactive learning environment! This is what I strive for. I have always considered the very best learning atmosphere to be a non-threatening fun and friendly place to share, explore and grow together for both the novice and the seasoned. From my point of view, it matters not how much you know, what matters is your openness to learning. I look forward to sharing with you my passion for exploring the beautiful mysteries of the herd dynamics! ~Kerry
