

DAGON THE FISH GOD OF NINEVEH AND THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH

Jonah 2:10 “Then Adonai commanded the fish, and it vomited Jonah up onto the dry land.”

St. Ambrose, by Moretto

One of the gods worshipped by the people of Nineveh was “Dagon”, the fish god. It is thought by some that the people of Nineveh repented because they witnessed their Dagon/fish god spit Jonah out on the shore and thought that he (Jonah) was a deity of Dagon. It scared them so bad that when the word got around they changed their beliefs. (1Sam. 5:1-5) This is the same deity that the Roman Catholic Church recognizes and gives reverence to in many ways to this very day. That is why in the RCC they are told to eat fish of Friday's.
