The Oracle Report

Disseminating Moon Phase - Moon in Libra/Scorpio

Let's see if I can untangle the nest of brambles that is today's energy. Let's take them one by one:

Fight or Flight: Today brings circumstances or events where we will need to choose between fighting (directly engaging something/ someone head on) and fleeing (mentally retreating to reason or think things out). Circumstances and events may be taking us out of our comfort zone or range of experience/expertise. There's "battle energy" in play, so don't go about unguarded. Use the technique of visualizing the shaft of light surrounding you, moving with you. We will need to stalk this energy or it will stalk us. Be aware. Above all, don't pretend to be more than you are. Humility goes along way today because it is stealthy.

Crazytown: The crazy is likely to come out today and it involves religious/spiritual motifs. "Religious ideation" and "messiah complexes" are present to varying degrees. This runs the spectrum of people believing they have all the answers and are totally in control of matters to bizarre cult-like behavior. Chiron Point Persists: The Moon will oppose the Chiron Point (see yesterday's post in the Archives) while Venus and Neptune continue close conjunction at the Chiron Point as the Sun and Chiron continue their close conjunction. That's about as "Chiron" as we could get. Chiron energy is self-sabotaging, among other things (it has wonderful teaching and healing abilities as well). But with the battle energy that is also present, we could do real damage to ourselves today. In ancient mythology, Chiron was the teacher of great warriors like Hercules, Achilles, and other heroes. So if we find ourselves in a theatre of battle (the theatre of the mind or the theatre of the world around us), we need to direct our efforts outward and not inward. Chiron wounded his foot with a poison arrow he made for Achilles (the Achilles heel). Wise owls here here at the Oracle Report are familiar with shooting arrows. Shoot them where they belong and not at yourself. Watch your step and hold the rail. Neptune/Pisces rules the feet and we are under heavy influence by Neptune and Pisces. (I could write a dissertation on transiting Neptune conjunct the natal Sun in Pisces with Chiron Point ascendant. I know of what I speak.)

Hidden within today's nest of energy is a crowning jewel, so please don't mistake this report to negate anything beautiful today. The Venus-Neptune conjunction continues to bring out the highest forms of love and beauty. Let's not forget the planet and
