

Being With Horses: An Introduction Communication, Relationship, Trust

Have you always wanted to spend time with horses? Have a horse and find the relationship isn't exactly what you expected? Are you a nature lover? Do you want to witness the beauty and grace of the gentle giants "Equus"?

CPF invites you to observe and interact with our therapy horses. We provide a natural setting for you to build a new way of relating to yourself and others.

Why Horses?

Horses are powerful mentors and spark connections to inner knowing and change. Through interactions with our horses, participants learn self-awareness which helps to reveal patterns of behavior. Once these patterns are revealed, thinking, responding and reacting in a new way becomes possible. Being with horses provides opportunities for learning life skills such as trust, respect, honesty and communication. You will have the possibility to experience and practice new skills while observing and interacting with our horses. No need to have any experience with horses.

Each class includes Being with the horses and Being in nature
