Timber Valley Collection

Equal Door Industries proudly introduces the next generation in garage door technology. The Timber Valley Collection represents the culmination of forty years of experience, and the steady advancement of our products when the technology is ready, and the time is right.

The highest quality garage door starts with a very strong backbone. The composition begins with a continuously foamed in place, CFC free, polyurethane insulated steel door panel. This factory prefinished panel is then bonded to beautiful, proprietary polyurethane exterior trim components that precisely mirror the appearance of real wood in every way.

Our technique results in an astounding calculated insulation value of R-19. This represents the highest R-value available in any residential garage door product of any kind. The Timber Valley Collection also benefits from the use of light weight materials. This allows the door panels to be amazingly strong, while offering safety, and very smooth operation.

Operating hardware is key to quiet, smooth, and safe operation of any garage door. The Timber Valley Collection uses the highest quality components that offer the best performance, and the longest life span. Matching weather strip kits are also available to assure a snug fit between the door surface and the jamb.

Glazing

Add a touch of glass with $\frac{3}{4}$ " thermal sealed glass inserts in the top panel of your Timber Valley garage door. They add tremendous curb appeal and allow natural light into your otherwise dimly lit garage space. Obscured or clear windows are standard, or choose tinted or architectural patterned glass as an option. All doors with glass panels are available with or without exterior window mullions.

Decorative Hardware

Select from a wide range of beautiful decorative exterior hardware to add distinction to your garage doors. We offer powder coated, stamped steel pieces for the budget conscious, and authentic cast aluminum works of art for a bolder statement.
