

CUPCAKES FOR CONSERVATION

The Redwood Coast Chapter of AAZK is once again selling animal themed cupcakes for Valentine's Day. Don't miss out on this

Pangolin

Pangolins, also known as the spiny anteater, are heavily hunted in both Asia and Africa for food, for use in traditional medicines and as fashion accessories.

Their populations are crashing as a result of the huge demand for their meat and scales. They are also threatened by habitat destruction and degradation resulting from human activities. Immediately halting illegal trade and broadening conservation efforts is critical to the survival of this remarkable group of mammals.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the IUCN Pangolin Specialist Group. They serve as leaders in global pangolin conservation efforts and

Your $10.00 gift package includes:

- *Choice of chocolate or yellow Texas-sized cupcake
- Free delivery on Valentine's Day!
- *An edible representation of your animal

Quantities are limited
so order now!

www.redwoodcoastaazk.org

California Condor

California condors are a rare and distinctive species that play a big part in America's natural heritage. In 1982, only 22 individuals remained alive in the wild, but through extensive legislation, conservation and captive breeding programs, their numbers have increased. However, these magnificent birds still face threats that impede their survival and recovery including lead poisoning, ingestion of trash, and habitat loss, among others.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the Ventana Wildlife Society, the only non-profit organization releasing and monitoring condors in California. Their goal is to establish a viable population of condors with 150

CUPCAKES FOR CONSERVATION

The Redwood Coast Chapter of AAZK is once again selling animal themed cupcakes for Valentine's Day. Don't miss out on this

Pangolin

Pangolins, also known as the spiny anteater, are heavily hunted in both Asia and Africa for food, for use in traditional medicines and as fashion accessories.

Their populations are crashing as a result of the huge demand for their meat and scales. They are also threatened by habitat destruction and degradation resulting from human activities. Immediately halting illegal trade and broadening conservation efforts is critical to the survival of this remarkable group of mammals.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the IUCN Pangolin Specialist Group. They serve as leaders in global pangolin conservation efforts and

Your $10.00 gift package includes:

- *Choice of chocolate or yellow Texas-sized cupcake
- Free delivery on Valentine's Day!
- *An edible representation of your animal

Quantities are limited
so order now!

www.redwoodcoastaazk.org

California Condor

California condors are a rare and distinctive species that play a big part in America's natural heritage. In 1982, only 22 individuals remained alive in the wild, but through extensive legislation, conservation and captive breeding programs, their numbers have increased. However, these magnificent birds still face threats that impede their survival and recovery including lead poisoning, ingestion of trash, and habitat loss, among others.

All proceeds from the purchase of this cupcake benefit the Ventana Wildlife Society, the only non-profit organization releasing and monitoring condors in California. Their goal is to establish a viable population of condors with 150