We often think of love as an emotion. But Jesus tells us to love one another. That means that love is something we can train ourselves to do. So it is important to understand that love is not really an emotion. Emotions are feelings and reactions to what is happening around us. Love is a decision.

Often when we love, we feel intense emotions also. For example, we might feel joy, happiness, and excitement. We can also feel anger, hurt, or other negative emotions when the one we love is hurt, or hurts us. But love itself is not an emotion. It does not come and go the way emotions do.

So if love is not an emotion, what is it? St. Paul puts it beautifully in the first letter to the Corinthians:

Love is patient, love is kind. It is not jealous, love is not pompous, it is not inflated, it is not rude, it does not seek its own interests, it is not quick-tempered, it does not brood over injury, it does not rejoice over wrongdoing but rejoices with the truth. It bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things. Love never fails.

So love is being patient when that really annoying person is talking. It is being kind, even when someone is unkind to us. It means letting go of jealousy when someone else makes the basketball team and we did not. It means lifting people up instead of tearing them down. It means forgiving. And it means truly wanting what is best for the other person.

Loving can be really difficult. It often means sacrificing what we want for the good of another person. Jesus showed us this example. He sacrificed his life for us. Hopefully we will never need to die for another person, but sometimes we have to die to our own wants or our pettiness. When Jesus says, "Love one another as I have loved you" he is telling us we are going to need to make some sacrifices for each other.

And these sacrifices are decisions. We have a choice. When that person who I don't enjoy talking to looks like she needs some cheering up, I can decide to go talk to her or to ignore her. When that guy gets the part in the school musical which I wanted, I can hold a grudge or I can genuinely congratulate him.

Jesus commands us to love. He doesn't say it will be easy.

Bless us with Love, O Merciful God;
 That we may Love as you Love!
 That we may show patience, tolerance,
 Kindness, caring and love to all!
 Give me knowledge; O giver of Knowledge,
 That I may be one with my Universe and Mother Earth!
 O Compassionate One, grant compassion unto us;
 That we may help all fellow souls in need!
 Bless us with your Love O God.
 Bless us with your Love.
 Amen.
