

November Field Trip -- Fort Pearce Wash

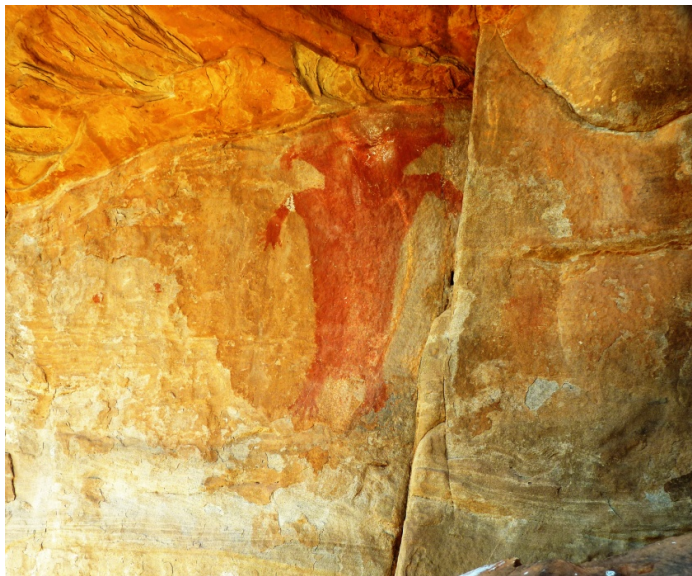

Our last trip was to Fort Pearce Wash southeast of Saint George. Those who went got to see two sites that are not easily found. Our leader, Jeff Allen, did a great job in pointing out Red Man / Sun Watcher and the Bear Clan rock. There is always something new to found in Fort Pearce.

Bear Clan Rock is sacred to members of the various Bear Clans and Red Man watches the sun rise.

For more pictures of these areas, see the field trip reports for March and November 2011.
