

Changes to Checked Bag Fees

As we continue to make investments that make travel on United better, we are making adjustments to our checked bag fees in select markets – most of which have not been changed in eight years. These changes allow us to continue investing in the overall customer experience in today’s marketplace.

For tickets issued on/after August 31, we’re increasing first and second checked bag fees on Caribbean, Central and North America United and United Express-operated flights. Tickets that are voluntarily reissued on/after August 31 will also be subject to the new bag fees.

Region	First Bag	Second Bag
Within US/PR/VI/Carib/ Central America ¹	Current: $25 USD New: $30 USD	Current: $35 USD New: $40 USD
Between Mexico and US/PR/ VI/Carib/Central America ¹	Current: $25 USD New: $30 USD	No change
Between Canada and US/PR/ VI/MX/Carib/Central America ¹	Current: $25 USD/CAD New: $30 USD/CAD	Current: $35 USD/CAD New: $50 USD/CAD

¹ Central America includes Costa Rica, Belize, Honduras, Guatemala and Nicaragua

Complimentary first and/or second checked bags will still apply to:

MileagePlus Premier members and their eligible companions

Primary cardmembers and companion(s) who purchase tickets using an eligible MileagePlus credit card

Our systems, including the baggage calculator on united.com, have been updated to reflect new pricing. For more details, please visit united.com or use the baggage calculator below.

)