

The Young Man Who Traded His Inheritance for a Dish of Red Soup

Genesis 25:29-34

One day Jacob was boiling red soup to eat.

He saw Esau, his brother, coming from the field and he was faint and very hungry.

Esau asked Jacob for some of his soup to eat. Jacob told him to trade his inheritance and he would give Esau some of his soup.

Esau gave Jacob his inheritance of the first born and Jacob gave Esau some of his soup to eat.
