

The terrifying monster known as the Toma in most European countries, but that many Americans call « the Hairy Beast », supposedly lives in wooden mountains where he preys on wild goats, whose flesh he's fond of.

Legend has it the Toma originated when a unicorn once met a giant lizard. Their baby was so hideous that they abandoned the poor creature whose appearance made him an eternal outcast. Once you heard his screams, you can no longer sleep peacefully, for they will haunt your nights.
