I found a small glowing mirror in a bag. It said this is the Kaptro Conjuraton mirror it can make appear any Object of your choosing. It also said we would like you to go on a journey to save the kingdom of Zekro spear, I will join you to Zekro spear I guess. I got a travel pack with a few pairs of clothes and my iphe with ear buds. I almost forget the mirror. I tell the mirror to give me the portal to the lost dimension that is where Zekro spear. "Aaaaahhhh," I said. The vortex was purple. I felt like I was on a roller coaster. "Where am I," I said. It looked like I was in a very sandy desert with high mountains. I am starving it felt like it was day but it was only 5 hours. Mirror can I please have a hot pizza. A second later I got some pizza. I ate while I was waiting to find Zekro spear. This ugly giant monster came out of the ground and gave me a fersourme coat. "Let's put this mirror to use," I whispered. "Give me a sword," I shouted. I got a giant golden sword. I sliced the monster in half. "I got to go to Zekro spear before it is too late," I said.

I met a villager on the way
he said he would join to save Zekrospear.
Had a cross bow. He seemed good with it.
We got to Zekrospear it was burning.
So I got a fire extinguisher and burned it out.
I ran to the castle got my sword and killed the guards. THEN I killed the ruler and got to own Zekrospear.
