St. Elizabeth of the Trinity: Prayer to the Trinity

O my God, Trinity whom I adore, help me to become utterly forgetful of myself so that I may establish myself in you, as changeless and calm as though my soul were already in eternity. Let nothing disturb my peace nor draw me forth f from you, O my unchanging God, but at every moment may I penetrate more deeply into the depths of your mystery. Give peace to my soul; make it your heaven, your cherished dwelling-place and the place of your repose. Let me never leave you there alone, but keep me there, wholly attentive, wholly alert in my faith, up to your creative action.

Pray above the Words of St Elizabeth of the Trinity and be inspired and persevering!

USCCB Guidelines on voting - The Challenge of Forming Consciences for Faithful Citizenship

Part I : Our Call as Catholic Citizens

Our nation faces many political challenges that demand well-in-formed moral choices:
The ongoing destruction of a million innocent human lives each year by abortion... .Physician-assisted suicide
The redefinition of marriage ... The excessive consumption of material goods and the destruction of natural resources, harming the environment as well as the poor. Deadly attacks on Christians and other religious minorities throughout the world. Efforts to narrow the definition and exercise of religious freedom...Economic policies that fail to prioritize the needs of poor people, at home and abroad. A broken immigration system and a worldwide refugee crisis...Wars, terror, and violence that threaten every aspect of human life and dignity.

Why Does the Church Teach About Issues Affecting Public Policy?
The US Constitution protects the right of individual believers and religious bodies to proclaim and live out their faith without gov-ernment interference, favoritism, or discrimination. Civil law should recognize and protect the Church’s right and responsibility to partici-pate in society without abandoning its moral convictions. .

Who in the Church Should Participate in Political Life?
In the Catholic tradition, responsible citizenship is a virtue, and participation in political life is a moral obligation. As Catholics, we should be guided more by our moral convictions than by our attach-ment to any political party or interest group. In today’s environment, Catholics may feel politically disenfranchised, sensing that no party and few candidates fully share our comprehensive commitment to human life and dignity. This should not discourage us. On the con-trary, it makes our obligation to act all the more urgent. Catholic lay women and men need to act on the Church’s moral principles and become more involved: running for office, working within political parties, and communicating concerns to elected officials.

How Can Catholic Social Teaching Guide Our Participation? Rightly understood, this ethic does not treat all issues as morally equivalent; nor does it reduce Catholic teaching to one or two issues. It anchors the Catholic commitment to defend human life and other human rights, from conception until natural death, in the fundamen-tal obligation to respect the dignity of every human being as a child of God. Catholic voters should use Catholic teaching to examine candidates’ positions on issues and should consider candidates’ integrity, philosophy, and performance. It is important for all citizens “to see beyond party politics, to analyze campaign rhetoric critically, and to choose their political leaders according to principle, not party affil-iation or mere self-interest” (USCCB, Living the Gospel of Life, no. 33). The following summary of the four principles highlights several themes of Catholic social teaching for special consideration:

The Dignity of the Human Person Human life is sacred because every person is created in the image and likeness of God. . The Compendium con-tinues, “It is necessary to ‘consider every neighbor without exception Subsidiarity It is impossible to promote the dignity of the person without showing concern for the family, groups, associations, and local realities—The family, based on marriage between a man and a woman, is the fundamental unit of society. This sanctuary for the creation and nurturing of children must not be redefined, undermined, or neglected. Supporting families should be a priority for economic and social policies. The principle of subsidiarity reminds us that larger institutions in society should not overwhelm or interfere with smaller or local institutions; yet larger institutions have essential responsibilities when the more local institutions cannot adequately protect human dignity, meet human needs, and advance the common good. The Common Good is comprised of “the sum total of social conditions which allow people, either as groups or as individuals, to reach their fulfilment more fully and more easily.”

Care for God’s creation, which Pope Francis refers to in Laudato Si’ as “our common home.”9 We all are called to be careful stewards of God’s creation and to ensure a safe and hospitable environment for vulnerable human beings now and in the future.

Solidarity is “a firm and persevering determination to commit oneself to . . . the good of all and of each individual, because we are all really responsible for all.” It is found in “a commitment to the good of one’s neighbor with the readiness, in the Gospel sense, to ‘lose oneself’ for the sake of the other instead of exploiting him, and to ‘serve him’ instead of oppressing him for one’s own advantage.”1
We are one human family, whatever our national, racial, ethnic, economic, and ideological differences. Our Catholic commitment to solidarity requires that we pursue justice, eliminate racism, end human trafficking, protect human rights, seek peace, and avoid the use of force except as a necessary last resort....Go to: USCCB.org

Be Missionary Disciples: Archdiocesan Parish Realignment Models and Plan...

Read questions below in relation to the proposed pastorate models in Enclosure, and send responses via email, phone, or to the office.

If we were to be placed in a pastorate with one or more other parishes and at some point be under shared leadership:

What grouping of parish(es) makes the most sense to live the mission Christ ?

What grouping of parish(es) would make the most sense in terms of opportunities to share resources such as buildings, staff, and programs that will strengthen our ability to reach people with the Gospel more effectively?

What are our challenges or fears surrounding the pastorate models?

What opportunities does the pastorate model open up for us?

Response Sessions: Saturday Oct. 22, 6pm-St Patrick Church; Monday Oct. 24, 7.30pm-St Peter Hall; Sunday Nov. 6, 11.15am St Peter Hall
