

Copyright and Ownership

SCBKA owns the copyright of all Association records and any documents used to run the Association. All committee members holding Association material whether digitally or in paper form should return this material, on request from the Committee or when relinquishing their position.

Unless otherwise agreed, the Association owns all its visible and invisible assets. This includes domain names and websites and copyright of published material. No such material may be used by any third party without written permission.

Charging for services

Any member wishing to charge for their time/skills must state their intention in writing to the Committee, before taking on any work for the Association. The Committee must confirm in writing any such arrangement before any paid work commences.
