INTRODUCTION

BOOKS OF THE
NEW TESTAMENT
FACT FILES

Welcome to New Testament Fact Files, a series of fun worksheets and games to help your students learn about all the Bible books written after the arrival of Jesus! Students can play games and relays, or just sit in groups and help each other learn all the classic New Testament Bible lookups, for which this series is fantastic!

The sure thing is that your students will have the big picture of the New Testament after completing these worksheets. They will know the men who wrote the Gospels, which books were written by Apostle Paul, and who the other authors were.

You can use the package as a comprehensive study to help students ages 7 and up learn the New Testament. Or you can bring out pages on a per-need basis while completing other studies. Flexibility is key, so let's look at the package and all the ways to use it.

What's Inside

There are 21 New Testament Fact Files enclosed, each covering one or more books of the New Testament. Most of the worksheets cover one book. However, we have doubled up on some that were written to the same churches or had the same author. A complete list of all 21 worksheets is included in the Table of Contents, and the learning tool "Books of the New Testament & Their Dates," "located on page IX."

On each sheet are the following:

Background Information on each book is found at the top of each worksheet and is generally one paragraph long. Each paragraph contains five or six blanks to be filled in using the choices of answers at the paragraph's end. The fill-ins are not hard and do not require a lookup. They make the paragraph work like a puzzle. It will only make complete sense when all five blanks have been filled in correctly. As the answers are an array of numbers, verbs, adjectives, and nouns, it isn't too challenging to get the right word into its blank. The fill-in-the-blank paragraph will give students an overview of the book or books.

Seven Bible Lookup Questions follow on each sheet, and generally they cover the most beloved, classic, or well-known scriptures from that book. Students will have to complete lookups to answer these seven multiple-choice questions (NIV translation is recommended).

The multiple-choice questions will familiarize students with some of the important details of the books.

A Bible Bookshelf on each page repeats the dates of when each book occurred in history. Because it can be colored in, students will be giving repeated attention to Bible books and dates.

Also in this package find the following:

Teacher's Answer Sheets are provided for all 21 worksheets. They provide the answers for the fill-in-the-blank questions as well as the multiple-choice answers for the Bible lookups. They require a color printer as the answers are marked in red.

Two games are included, which you can use for reinforcement after students have filled in the worksheets. One focuses on the background information about the book, while the other focuses on the entire worksheet. Use both for optimal reinforcement or just one!

Books of the New Testament in Order with Dates is one sheet that students can have in the middle of the table while completing the Bible lookups. It lists the books in order and is yet another source for when the events of each book either occurred or were written.

How to Use the New Testament Worksheets

Below are some great tips for getting optimal use of the worksheets:

Don't let younger children work unsupervised

You will achieve optimal learning if you remain present when children are filling out answers—especially children 9 & under. For many children this series may be their first full-on exposure to the basics of God's precious Word. Children need teachers and parents to help them along with it. While picking the important scriptures from each book, editors have strived to give children the big picture of what is going on. Therefore the series will ignite questions, and you should be available to guide them. Hence, we only suggest using this series as a send-home sheet or unsupervised fill-in sheet if children are 10 & older.

Allow plenty of time for students who are new to Bible lookups

The time you will need will depend on the ages of students and their abilities. In the cases where the scriptures involve stories, 20 minutes supervised will most likely suffice.

Incorporating teamwork

Teamwork makes learning more fun and can optimize retention! Here are some ideas on incorporating teamwork:

If you teach a mixed-age group, it is best to pair an older child with a younger child, as the questions can be challenging for younger children. However, children as young as seven should be learning how to navigate the Bible, and the bookshelf on each page should help. A younger child can do the Bible lookups. His older partner will have the acumen to read the questions, consider the choices, and clarify options with the younger child. They can derive the answer together.

Use the bookshelf to give the books time & order placement

Once students are through answering both fill-ins and multiple-choice answers, ask them to point to the colored book in the graphic and consider where it is on the bookshelf, which will help them picture where it is in their Bible. Then ask them to consider the dates of the events or when it was written. Is it one of the first written? Or was it closer to last? If Jesus died around 26 AD, how close was it to the Crucifixion and Resurrection? They can color the books in with different colors of pencils, which will reinforce the dates of Bible books.

We're suggesting several games your students can play with the sheets for reinforcement. The games just add fun and intrigue! They follow in this introductory section.

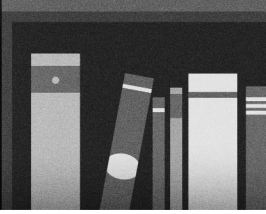

Why This Package is Important

This book goes well with its counterpart, Books of the Old Testament Fact Files. Both will help children know the names of the Bible books and get a clearer understanding of when the events happened. By the time they are eight years old, or halfway through their Sunday school years, we all want children to start getting an overview picture of the story God is telling in this one amazing book.

The Bible is 66 books with more than 40 authors, writing over a period of 1,500 years. They all have their own styles, perspectives, eras, and challenges to deal with. However, the more one reads the Bible, the more one is able to see clearly that it is ONE ongoing story—God's message to mankind—and it still inspires as many people today as it ever did! Your students will begin to understand this and thus become closer to God as they unveil his secrets... one book and author at a time!

GAME #1: WORKSHEET TABLE RELAYS

BOOKS OF THE
NEW
FACT FILES

This game should be played immediately after students fill out a worksheet and have gone over the answers. To make minds sharp for the game, have them put their own worksheets down while you read questions from the Teacher's Answer Sheets, and have them blurt the correct answers until many are getting them right.

Preparation

1. Post two blank copies of the Fact File sheet that was filled out in class on opposite ends of the learning table (so that teams cannot see each other's answer sheets and copy from them).
2. Place a Bible and a pencil beside each sheet.
3. Form two teams and have the teams line up, one behind the other, at either end of the table.
4. When you say "Go!" the first student on each team will fill in an answer. It can be any answer they feel most certain about, but they can fill in only one. Other teammates may not rush, or otherwise irritate the person whose turn it is. They may NOT tell him the answer. When the teammate is finished, he should leave the pencil and go to the back of the line.
5. The next student may fill in a second answer, and so on, until the entire sheet is completed again.
6. Toward the end, students may find themselves having to relook up answers. The Bible is there for that purpose, though no student is forced to do a lookup in this game. The other option is to guess.
7. When one of the teams completes a worksheet, the round ends. The other team will have some blanks. Using the Teacher's Answer Sheet, check the sheets, using the following rules to score:
 - a. Every correct answer is worth 10 points
 - b. Deduct 10 points for each incorrect answer.
 - c. Deduct 5 points for each answer that is left blank by the team that did not finish first.

8. Complete as many rounds as you wish with the same worksheet to improve comprehension.

Note: Students will feel a great urge to resist taking time for Bible lookups. However, wrong answers can be extremely costly. So can blank answers for the time taken for Bible lookups! Encourage them to look up in future rounds if they did not learn their lesson this time.

The team with the highest score wins the game.

GAME #2: BIBLE BACKGROUND HANDS-DOWN

BOOKS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT FACT FILES

Remember the game “Hands Down” from your childhood? Here’s an easy likeness! This game involves slapping the answer on the index card that contains the correct fill-in-the-blank answer from the worksheet. The game will reinforce the background information on the Bible book or books covered on a Fact File sheet.

As with Game #1, this game should be played immediately after students fill out a worksheet and have gone over the answers. To make minds sharp for the game, have them put their own worksheets down while you read questions from the Teacher’s Answer Sheets, and have them blurt the correct answers until many are getting them.

Materials

- New Testament Fact File Printable, one copy for each student
- Two Bibles in NIV translation
- Pencils
- Index cards

Preparation

Using the Teacher’s Answer Sheet, write the five or six words that are answers to the fill-in-the-blank section on separate index cards.

Rules & Instructions

1. After the students have filled out their worksheets and gone over the answers, have them turn their papers over so they can no longer see the questions or answers.
2. Lay out the index cards with the answers written on them on the table.
3. Have students stand up so they can reach any of the cards as easily as anyone else.
4. Read the background paragraph on each book or books, using the word “blank” when you come to it. At the end of a sentence stop, unless a sentence has TWO blanks (which is rare). In that case, stop at the end of the first THOUGHT, including the first blank.
5. The student who first slaps the card containing the answer wins the card. (You will be able to tell who slapped the answer first, because his hand will be on the bottom if there are lots of students.)
6. That student may take the card into his possession.
7. Repeat until all the questions have been read.
8. The student with the most cards at the round’s end wins the round.
9. Lay out all the answers again and play again, leaving out the first winner. Complete another round with the remaining students.
10. Repeat rounds, eliminating winners, as many times as you wish.

THE BOOKS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT IN ORDER WITH DATES

This list is to help you find the book of the New Testament you are investigating. The Books also include the dates that the events took place and/or when each was written. The books are repeated on each worksheet page, but some students find the straight list easier to read and work with.

You may be surprised to see that, like the Old Testament, the New Testament is NOT put together chronologically (in order of the events)! For example, many scholars believe the first book of the New Testament to be written was Galatians in 48 AD, around 20 years after Jesus died. That was before the first gospel was written, which was most likely Mark, around 50 AD. The last gospel to be written was the Gospel of John, most likely in the 90s AD.

As well, most of these dates are estimated. We do not know exactly what year Jesus was born, let alone the month or date. But most Bible experts agree that the dates below are close, though some think there may be 10 years in difference.

Use this list and also the bookshelf on each page to help you picture when all the important events in the New Testament happened.

1. Matthew 7 BC – 26 AD
2. Mark 7 BC – 26 AD
3. Luke 7 BC – 26 AD
4. John 7 BC – 26 AD
5. Acts 26 AD – 62 AD
6. Romans 57 AD
7. 1 & 2Corinthians 55-56 AD
8. Galatians 48 AD
9. Ephesians 60-62 AD
10. Philippians 60-62 AD
11. Colossians 60-62 AD
12. 1 & 2 Thessalonians 51 AD
13. 1 & 2 Timothy 63-64 AD
14. Titus 63 AD
15. Philemon 60-62 AD
16. Hebrews 50-68 AD
17. James 50-60 AD
18. 1 & 2 Peter 64-68 AD
19. 1 & 2 & 3 John 90s AD
20. Jude 65-80 AD
21. Revelation 95-97 AD
