

PAGAN GODS (mostly Greek)

REFERENCES TO THE GREEK GODS IMBEDDED IN THE GREEK LANGUAGE

Another Hebrew thought that requires us to consider Jewish people not wanting to learn or speak the Greek or Latin languages, is because many thought it was a sin to do so. The Greeks and Romans were as pagan as any culture could possibly be. They put so much emphasis of their deities in their language that they imbedded bits and pieces of pagan deity names in the very words of Greek by adding certain letters to the ends of words. Many Greek and Latin words had the names of their gods and goddesses mixed right in with the common language. For the same reason Jews never handled Greek or Roman coins, that had "denarius" on them, many refused to speak the Greek or Latin language because many of the words of those languages included descriptions of Greek and Roman gods in them. Jews were forbidden to utter the names of other gods.

Here are a few examples of words they were forbidden to use in Greek, or Latin that ended with pagan deities: "ies" "IHS" the original names for Iesus the surname of Bacchus the Sun-deity, "us", as in Zeus, Hephaestus, Achelous, Aeolus, Asclepius, Aristaeus, Theseus, Caerus, Odysseus, Perseus, and Bacchus, "es" as in Hermes, Achilles, Ares, Hades, Heracles, Ulysses, "ite" as in Aphrodite, "is" as in Artemis, Isis, and "ena" as in Athena.

With that in mind it is easy to understand why Jews would never even consider speaking the name of Jesus out loud. It was felt by the Jewish people that by speaking these languages they were in fact using the names of other Gods, which was against torah. Exod. 20:3 "You shall have no other gods before Me".
