

Road to the Stage

Rules / Regulations:

- Contestants must be 16 or older to compete
- Must be a resident of the South Shore
- Contestants can not be “professional” performers (paid more than $500 for performing)
- Each contestant needs to have 3 songs they are comfortable performing
- If over 30 applications are received, there will be a draw for the 30 eligible applicants eligible to compete in the auditions.
- No Props or Q-cards are permitted to be used during this singing competition.
- Following the blind auditions, the judge that becomes his or her coach will choose from those 3 songs, which one will be preformed for the next leg of the competition.
- The winner of the Saturday night final will receive $500, a professional recording of a song and the opportunity to perform a song on the main stage before the headliner “Emerson Drive” take the stage.
- Contestants will be judged on Quality of Sound, Singing Technique, Musicianship, Stage Presence (except for the blind audition) and Overall Performance
- For Tuesday night's Blind Auditions contestants will have 5 minutes to setup and perform, so keep it simple
- The South Shore Exhibition reserves the right to use performance footage and contestant's names to promote this event on their social media links.
- Have fun and enjoy and remember our judges decisions are final.
