Fall doesn't begin until September 22nd, yet it seems that everyone is in a hurry for Summer to end.

Halloween decorations have come out, people are looking for bucks to breed to their does and Fall shows are already almost here. The Gwinnett County Fair is on Sept 16th and there is no entry deadline, but it would sure help the show secretary if you would submit your information ahead of time. Entries are closed for the Oct. 12th show in Perry.

Again, we are facing uncertain times due to a surge in covid cases. I have already received emails warning me that festivals I have signed up to attend this Fall are considering cancelling. Please keep up with the show web sites to check on closures as we get closer to the shows. The University of GA is getting ready to host a full football stadium (92,000 attendees) this Sat. and with local hospitals already 90% full, things could get pretty dicey here.

Please stay safe and I hope to see everyone at the next meeting at Gloria Andrews clinic on Sept. 19th.

Make plans to come to the upcoming club meeting at 1:30pm on Sunday, Sept. 19th ~ location address is on this newsletter's last page!

Make Plans to Be at the Upcoming Georgia Shows:

September 16st – Gwinnett Co. Fair, Lawrenceville – Showmanship, Senior doe & Junior doe shows with milking contest & costume contest. Judge: Jean Lucas [VA].

October 12th – GA National Fair, Perry - Showmanship, Senior doe & Junior doe shows. Judge: Justin Bassett [TX].

Or stop by and watch part of the shows – you'll see many nice animals & meet some nice folks to talk "goats" with.
