A FAMILY AFFAIR Prevention Short Film at iMatter Film Festival is Community Prevention Initiative that addresses the community issues plaguing our families in Wilmington and surrounding cities. As a Suicide and Violence Education Teacher, Nurse Hogans utilizes the acronym F.A.C.T.S. (FEELINGS, ACTIONS, CHANGES, THREATS, SITUATIONS) to discover the root of manifested issues. It is proven that certain SITUATIONS cause FEELINGS that people ACT upon, that cause a CHANGE IN BEHAVIOR that can ultimately lead to THREATS of harm to self or others. Listed below are the SITUATIONS that will be creatively displayed in the film (based on true stories):

- Domestic violence
- Sexual assault
- Suicide
- Depression
- Secondary trauma
- Teen pregnancy
- Addiction
- Human sex trafficking
- PTSD (Veterans)
- Homelessness
- Lack of Job skills/availability
- Absentee Parents
- Unhealthy Co-Parenting

Our goal is to creatively start the uncomfortable but necessary conversations and initiate a plan of action. A “listening party” will take place after each film which consists of a panel of people in the community who have experienced 1st hand the subject matter discussed in the film. By asking the question WHAT HAPPENED and exercising empathy, we hope to identify traumatic life experiences that altered the course of not only their lives but their families and ultimately the surrounding communities. Community Partners listed below will be on site to directly connect the resources to assist the families in need. Beyond the premier, we plan on having private screenings at churches, corporate retreats, detention centers, afterschool programs and schools to initiate the conversations in communities around the world.
