PMIG 2007

Person Memory Interest Group Annual Meeting

Illinois Beach Resort and Conference Center Zion, Illinois

October 8 - 11, 2007

David L. Hamilton & Eliot R. Smith Co-Organizers

Wednesday, October 10th, 2007

Session 1

Chair: Bertram Gawronski, University of Western Ontario

8:30 Allen McConnell, Miami University

The multiple self-aspects framework: Implications for our understanding of the self

9:15 Guglielmo Calvini, Cardiff University

Learned group predictiveness and stereotype formation: An associative account of categorization bias

10:00 Break

10:30 Kai Epstude, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Comparisons influence the social induction of affect

11:15 Lisa Libby, Ohio State University

Picture yourself: The psychological significance of imagery perspective

12:30 Lunch

Wednesday, October 10th, 2007

Session 2

Chair: Steven Stroessner, Columbia University

2:00 Eliot Smith, Indiana University

Active social cognition

2:45 Dolores Albarracin, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

The social regulation of activity and inactivity

3:30 Break

4:00 2007 Thomas M. Ostrom Award Address

Russell Fazio, Ohio State University & Glenn Reeder, Illinois State University, Chairs

Marilynn Brewer, Ohio State University Categories, images, and social identity complexity

7:00 Dinner

Marsday, October 11th, 2007

Session 3

Chair: Tony Greenwald, University of Washington

8:30 K.C. McCulloch, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Taking a closer look: On the operation of nonconscious impression formation

9:15 Bill von Hippel, University of Queensland The role of implicit and explicit prejudice in the healthcare of injecting drug users

10:00 Break

10:30 Piotr Winkielman, UC San Diego

Words that prime too much: Fluency-disfluency transitions

11:15 Vivian Zayas, Cornell University

Lateralized readiness potential (LRP) evidence of response competition in masked category priming

12:30 Lunch