Beloved friends,

If you ever forget how special a place St. Mark's is, we can show you in writing.

After months of conversations, preparation and prayer, we have finally begun the active part of our search for our next Rector.

From the diocesan perspective, the process starts with three letters: OTM. The Office of Transition Ministry portfolio, a document that churches and candidates each prepare as we seek to call or be called. The OTM starts with a bunch of numbers – financial, attendance and such. It ends with 13 questions to be answered in narrative form.

I was not excited about putting this document together, because it's something of a box. And St. Mark's rarely fits into a box. But it's a required box, so we followed the rules and did our best to capture the essence of St. Mark's in our 13 answers. To ensure we included many voices, each Vestry member answered every question from his or her own perspective. We figured we'd weave them together in the 1,200 words we had for each answer.

It was a great plan, until we read the fine print. The answer boxes fit 1,200 characters, not 1,200 words.

That realization sent us into an editing frenzy much like a chef prepares a demi-glace. We boiled, simmered and reduced the ingredients until we were left with a most flavorful and concentrated look at the faithful, loving, giving and engaged parish that is St. Mark's Huntersville.

I will forever be grateful for the OTM process. It was a glorious reminder of our life-giving church and its efforts to know Christ and to make Him known. I think you'll agree that it's a beautiful snapshot of all that we are, all that we have and all that we do. You can read it here https://www.episdionc.org/uploads/images/st-marks-huntersville-otm_480.pdf

The search process is now in the hands of Bishop Sam and Catherine Massey, the diocesan canon for transition ministry. They will field applications, conduct interviews, spend time in discernment and prayer for 6-8 weeks, before sending us 3-5 candidates to interview. We expect to invite each candidate to visit St. Mark's in June and, God willing, to call a new Rector soon thereafter.

Thank you for all of your support as we've navigated this process. We encourage you to keep sharing your thoughts as you have throughout this year. Most of all, we ask for your continued prayers as we do the hard work of discerning the right call. We are comforted by the presence of the Holy Spirit, whom we have felt keenly throughout this transition. We know we will find our way, if we listen close enough.

Faithfully yours,

Beth Hunt, senior warden

on behalf of the Vestry of St. Mark's

Update on in-person services for Easter

On March 7, the Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina returned to Stage 2 of the Plan for Churches during a Pandemic. This enables us to have limited indoor gatherings for worship, formation and church business. This determination is based upon the 14-day rolling average for percentage of positive tests for Mecklenburg county being both below 6.5% and declining.

As your Interim Rector under COVID-19, I have participated in weekly diocesan zoom meetings since October, which review and examine the latest data and scientific findings in excruciating detail. The Episcopal Church analyzes safety and best practices with the assistance of virologists and epidemiologists who consult with the House of Bishops, including my friend Joe Graves, who is a professor and author in the field of genomic adaptation and a parishioner at St. Andrew's in Greensboro.

Through February and early March, we took up the subject of Easter church attendance. The formula given to St. Mark's by the diocese is 30% of the fire capacity of the room where people are meeting. We believe that the fire capacity of the chapel is greater than 120, although I don't have anything official from the fire department. This set the Easter Church occupancy at 35 and the Rafters occupancy at 75. The 30% formula also takes into account that 14% of the population is fully immunized (including me) and that studies that have shown that fully vaccinated people are 95% safe from being transmitters (Israeli studies using the Pfizer vaccine) as well as safe from getting Covid.

These numbers assume that people will remain masked and sit in "clusters" if they are part of the same household. Given several clusters as well as individuals, 35 is perceived to be the maximum number of people who can maintain social distancing. It is critical to sign up ahead of time, as the seating in the church will be organized ahead of time and pew locations labelled. This expanded number has been approved for the Easter service only. All other indoor services are still limited to 25 people under Stage 2.

The Episcopal Church is, compared to all other denominations, taking a most cautious approach. I believe that we have been making the long-term wellbeing of our congregants and community a priority at each stage of the pandemic.

Of course, an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and the absolute safest course of action would be to watch the service virtually and stop by for drive through communion. This would be recommended for people with co-morbidities or whose immune systems are compromised. The communion wafers have been consecrated and sealed for weeks now to assure non-transmission.

Faithfully,
Reverend Ed

A huge thank you for the response to the March kitchen shower! Almost all of the large items were donated and most of the smaller hand tools as well. Sue will be adding a few things she realized later she had forgotten on the first list and it will remain on Amazon through April.

Pastoral Care and Flyin' Lion will be working together to ensure meals are available to parishioners as needed and to provide cooking experience for the students.

JOIN US FOR LUNCH During the Week

We are inviting our parishioners to join the instructors and students for lunch Tuesday through Friday from noon to 1pm.

Flyin' Lion will post the menu each week in the e-blast. Reservations will need to be made no later than Sunday following the Thursday e-blast

We can accommodate 6 lunch guests per day.

A free will offering will be accepted.

The Wedding Belles of St. Mark's:

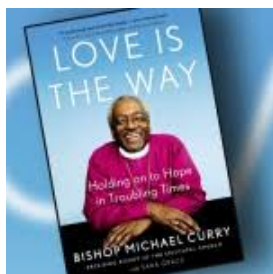

Wedding bells will be ringing soon at St. Mark's and we need volunteers to help make the days successful.

If you are interested in being part of the Wedding Belles of St. Mark's, reach out to Allison at theraftersevents@gmail.com or 704-609-2308.

Help will be needed occasionally with setting up tables, chairs, and linens before the big day, and breaking down and cleaning up afterward.

Any amount of time you can volunteer will be much appreciated!
