

As martial artists, we will find ourselves in places where we are leaders. We may not be trying to be leaders, or looking to lead other people, but a lot of the things that make great martial artists (focus, confidence, self-discipline, self-control, integrity) also make great leaders.

Being a leader doesn't mean being bossy, or telling others to follow you. The best leaders lead by example, they do the right thing, and other people follow. The word search below is full of words that describe leaders, and the qualities of LEADERSHIP. Find all of 'em that you can!
