

COSHH Awareness

COSHH is the law that requires employers to control substances that are hazardous to health.

You can prevent or reduce workers exposure to hazardous substances by:

- Finding out what health hazards are
- Providing monitoring and health surveillance in appropriate cases
- Planning for emergencies

At the end of the training participants will be able to:

- Understand legal obligations with regard to chemicals and substances
- State consequences of poor chemicals and substances controls
- Work safely with chemicals and substances within their working environment
- Identify problems associated with chemicals used in their home environment.
