

Dr. Anita Nahal, Ph.D.
Advisor to the President
Board of Advisors

Dr. Nahal is a multi-dimensional diversity thought-leader and consultant with professional experience spanning countries, continents, and cities. Dr. Nahal has worked at various universities—historically black colleges and universities (HBCUs) and public and private schools—in the USA and India.

Dr. Nahal is a multi-dimensional with professional experience spanning countries, continents, and cities. She has worked at various universities; HBCUs, Public and Private, in the US and India. Besides two Master's in American History, Dr. Nahal has a Ph.D. in American Studies and a Fulbright Post-Doc in African American Women's History. She has three certifications in diversity, inclusion, and cultural competency.

In her leisure time, Dr. Nahal is a poet, flash fiction, and children's book author. She has traveled to 19 countries and speaks three foreign languages, including Hindi, Punjabi, and Urdu. Dr. Nahal brings a nationally recognized expert in the fields of diversity, equity, inclusion, history, international studies, and women's studies.

Her personal philosophy is that a person is much more than a degree. She believes that people learn from life, living, surviving thriving, understanding comprehending others, and working with those who are different. She is proud of the fact that she has raised good kids, mentored others to be positive and constructive, and has cared for others.