Meet Our Team

TOBI WOGHIREN

Executive Director

I am an MPH student at UAB studying with a concentration in Epidemiology. I have been around the geriatrics healthcare sector, since I was a little girl following my parents to work and have a special interest in caring for the homeless and impoverished. I am extremely excited to be able to give to an often ignored/forgotten population that has brought me so much experience and joy while working with them. With Global Blessing I'm hoping this is a step towards ending homelessness and getting people to the resources they need.

MEL ALEUS

Program Manager

My name is Mel Aleus and I am current a case manager with a family law firm and a second-year law student at Georgia State University College of Law. I become interested in caring for the elderly and other marginalized groups through my studies and first-hand stories from loved one who work in healthcare. I hope that I will be able to affect real change during my time at Global Blessing, especially being able to subdue the financial effects of elderly care in our country.

HANAH SCOTT

Development Coordinator

My name is Hanah Scott. I'm currently in school to to get my Masters in Public Health at Rollins School of Public Health. My experience as a pharmacy technician and volunteering at the food bank has peaked my interest in helping the older population advocate for their health. My goals are to aid in connecting the older population to resources that are available to them to improve their health and daily lives, and to help organizations such as Global Blessing obtain funding to better provide for their community.

Meet Our Team

CLARA WOGHIREN

Grant Proposal Manager

Hello, I'm Clara! I'm a registered nurse with managerial experience as a nurse administrator. I'm currently also getting another degree in Health and Social care management. Part of my work at the hospital is getting in contact with patient of various age groups but mainly the elderly. During my time at work I'd encounter homeless and less privileged individuals. Global Blessing is an opportunity to give back to the community and contribute to people having access to known and unknown resources.

KAYLA WRIGHT

Community Outreach Specialist

Hi everyone! My name is Kayla Wright! I am a marketing and social media coordinator for a research program at Emory University. Working for the Human Genetics sector at Emory has gotten me a lot of insight into the Public Health world which has helped to peak my interest in Global Blessing Inc. I am very excited to be apart of this team and find ways to give back to the community.
