

The Boy Who Lost His Home by Mocking

Genesis 21:9-20

Sarah saw the son of Hagar, Ishmael, mocking her son Isaac.

Sarah told her husband, Abraham, to send Hagar and the boy away so he could not inherit with Isaac.

Abraham was not happy, but Elohim told him to listen to Sarah and send them away.

Abraham gave Hagar and her son bread to eat and water to drink and he sent them away.

They wandered in the wilderness and ran out of water to drink.

Hagar put her son under a shrub and cried because she did not want him to die.

A Messenger of Elohim called to Hagar out of the heavens and told her not to be afraid because He would make Ishmael a great nation.

Elohim opened Hagar's eyes and she saw a well of water.

Hagar gave water to the boy to drink and he lived.

Elohim was with Ishmael and he grew up in the wilderness and became a great archer!
