- + Here is an email I received from the NY State Department of Taxation and Finance:
- "Reminder.

If you are a New York State registered tax return preparer, you may be required to take continuing education coursework by December 31, 2016. This course is entitled '2017 Continuing Education'.

You can access your required continuing education coursework through your New York State Individual Online Services account.

Log into your Individual Online Services account.

In the Services section to the left, select Tax preparer registration program.

Then select Take required education – this will pop up the Registration and Continuing Education Training for Tax Return Preparers page, here click the SLMS box.

For more information, see How to use the SLMS.

If you do not complete your required coursework by December 31, 2016, you will be unable to register as a New York State tax return preparer for 2017."

I hope this year's required NY CPE is not the total waste of time it was last year (updates were for the previous year and not the current one) and just a partial waste of time (redundant ethics preaching). See my discussion of last year's CPE – "REQUIRED NEW YORK STATE CONTINUING EDUCATION FOR TAX PREPARERS".

+ At FINANCIAL PLANNING Ed Slott talks about "A fatal IRA rollover error" and how to properly advise our clients.

+ In case you are interested, the IRS is rebroadcasting its webinar "Practicing Before the IRS - Circular 230 A to Z Rebroadcast" on Wednesday, July 13th. It appears that it is free.

This webinar covers -

- Recent changes to the regulations governing tax practice before the IRS (Circular 230),
- Due Diligence obligations of tax professionals,
- Overview of other key Circular 230 provisions,
- Practitioner responsibilities to their clients and to the Tax Administration System,
- Best Practices for all tax professionals, and
- Office of Professional Responsibility Policies and Procedures.
- + FYI -
- "The City of Philadelphia has reduced the City Wage Tax rate effective July 1, 2016.
- The new Wage Tax rate for residents of Philadelphia is 3.9004% (.039004).
- The new Wage Tax rate for non-residents of Philadelphia who are subject to the Philadelphia City Wage Tax is 3.4741 % (.034741).

What does this mean to you?

Any paycheck that you issue with a pay date after June 30, 2016 must have Philadelphia City Wage Tax withheld at the new rate."

+ The INCOME TAX SCHOOL blog lists "5 Reasons Independent Ownership is Better Than Buying Into A Franchise".

A reason not listed to avoid a franchise like Henry and Richard – you maintain your integrity and are not forced to push unnecessary and costly franchise products and additional charges on clients.

- + Some summer tax reading Kelly Phillips Erb, the internet's TaxGirl, has a new e-book from FORBES titled "Ask The Taxgirl: Everything Parents Should Know About Filing Taxes", which she introduces in "When Raising A Child Costs $245,340, It Pays To Strategize For Tax Breaks".
- + The Republicans have issued a "Blueprint for Tax Reform". What do you think about the reform proposals?

Fellow tax-blogger Joe Kristan talks about the business proposals in the blueprint in "Tax Roundup, 6/28/16: House GOP plan allows full asset expensing, ends business interest deduction. And: summer camp tax breaks!".

If you agree with me that the US Tax Code is a mucking fess and should be rewritten from scratch join with me in spreading the word about the need for serious and substantive tax reform by joining TAX PROFESSIONALS FOR TAX REFORM.
