THE JOY OF ORPHANS

It is well known that as many children to well to do families celebrate their birth days and other ceremonies, orphans often and usually miss and do not have such chances to celebrate. SOCH occasionally organises bounce back parties when all children are able to remember that one day they were born and that they can celebrate also at their own time. This has had a very great impact on the psychosocial support to orphans. This year the bounce back party was on 25 December, 2016.
