POSTPONED (Dubawi) 4 b c

Trainer: Luca Cumani

Postponed came into his own towards the end of his three-year-old campaign, when he cantered home in Glasgow Stakes (LR) over 11 furlongs at Hamilton (beating the in-form Double Bluff by 3 ½ lengths) before stepping right up with an impressive 2 1/4-length win in the Great Voltigeur Stakes (G2) over 12 furlongs at York (both races were in August). He looked seriously good at York, where he easily took the lead a furlong out and quickened away for a comfortable win. Runner-up Snow Sky went on to finish third in the St. Leger (G1) at Doncaster, beaten 3 ¼ lengths behind Kingston Hill – a result that must have pleased Postponed's connections.

They resisted the temptation of going for the Leger, since trainer Cumani was adamant that the colt would not want further than a mile and a half, and wrapped the son of Dubawi up for the winter. It may seem a bit risky to add him to the 50 to Follow, as he will undoubtedly be highly tried at four, but Postponed looks the type to keep on improving with age, and he is not that far below top class. Prior to his two wins, he ran third to Cannock Chase (also in this book) at Royal Ascot.

Postponed needs good or good to firm ground to make full use of his turn of foot.

THE GREY GATSBY ON COURSE FOR DUBAI

The Grey Gatsby is a colt all racing fans should make sure they get to see up close when he comes into the paddock at Meydan on World Cup. This son of Mastercraftsman really is an imposing individual. And he has form to go with his good looks, having captured two Group One events in Europe last year. Lowering Derby winner Australia's colours in the Irish Champion Stakes (G1) at Leopardstown was the high point of The Grey Gatsby's three-year-old campaign, and there should be more to come. He is just the type to improve with age.

The Grey Gatsby won a York maiden and ran second in two G2 events in his first season. His second began with a promising runner-up effort behind Toormore in the Craven Stakes (G3) at Newmarket. Neither managed to land a blow in the 2,000 Guineas (G1), but The Grey Gatsby's future was to lie over further than a mile. He showed much better form when stepped up to 10.5 furlongs in the Dante Stakes (G2) back at York less than two weeks after the Guineas, a race he won from Arod, with Godolphin's True Story third. It was a tasty classic prep, but not used as a stepping stone to Epsom. Trainer Kevin Ryan wasn't keen on a mile and a half and instead sent the colt to Chantilly, where The Grey Gatsby followed up with a clear cut win in the French Derby, best known as the Prix du Jockey-Club (G1). Like the Dante this classic is contested over an extended ten-furlong trip. The Grey Gatsby sneaked up the inside from a position in midfield, and ran out a convincing 3-length winner from Shamkiyr.

A return to France on Bastille Day was not so successful, as the very soft ground anchored Ryan's star in the Grand Prix de Paris (G1). He lost not an ounce of his enthusiasm though, and came back to form with a game second to Australia in the Juddmonte International (G1) at York in August. Just over three weeks later these two clashed again in the Irish Champion Stakes (G1), and The Grey Gatsby exacted his revenge. He was held up for a late run, and closed relentlessly into what had been a brisk early pace. Australia was caught in the closing stages and beaten a neck.

The Grey Gatsby did not run again in 2014, and will thus be coming off a lengthy break when he runs at Meydan, where he has two options; the Dubai Turf (G1) over 1800 metres or the Sheema Classic (G1) over 2400 metres. Whichever race he goes for he will be amongst the favourites.
