"What is this?" I say as I pull out the piece of paper that read "The Kaptro Metamorphus lets the owner morph into the shape and form of any other living creature, cool," I continued.

It's after school but Julie still hasn't come back for her Kaptro thingy abob. I want <sup>to</sup> use it so bad but im not sure if I can. So I think i should try it on my cat, Molly, or maybe Ely. Molly is a grey cat, but ~~Ely~~ Ely is a Skinny cat with orange & white fur. So I'm gonna morph into Ely.

It was later that after noon, the fragment glowed so bright that it burned my eyes. I think I'm on my bed but im not sure, so I jumped and found my body lying there cold. "Is this a dream?" I say then I realized it was'nt. I found the piece of the mirror and picked it up and it started to glow brighter and brighter. Poof! I lifted up my hands and pulled out the fragment from my mouth.

Julie came back and took the fragment
but it's for the best.
