
Honorary Academician: Cheong Ming Lam

Cheong Ming Lam, LCGI, FRAS is a Security Specialist in the aviation industry. He gives advice to Airport Operators and related business, as well as members of the general public. He also has a wide range of knowledge in Airport Operations as he was previously in the Airline Industry as a Team Leader before joining the Aviation Security Sector in 2003. He has since worked & given advice to most of the Major Airports in the UK and to ensure Aviation Security Standards are met. He has been a huge contributor in projects to help tighten and improve Aviation Security at UK airports.

He is listed on the Marquis's Who Who's of the World in the 2012 Publication Edition. He has received the Professional Recognition City & Guild's Award in Management. He has a great interest in world history and a elected Fellow of the Royal Asiatic Society (FRAS). He is a Patron of the Royal Academy of Music and a Member of the British Association for the Advancement of Science and a member of the London Chinese Community Centre.

He has always been interested in the rich history of London and in 2009 he became Freeman of the City of

Cheong Ming Lam

London. He is also a Former Liveryman of the Worshipful Company of Basketmakers & Juror of the Court Leet of the Guidable Manor of Southwark.

He has been involved with Eye Hospital in Jerusalem under the Venerable Order of St John of Jerusalem, he is also a Companion of the Order of Malta in the UK

He has received recognition for the voluntary work and contribution to local charities and Communities from Charitable Organisations and Associations. He has also received global recognition when he was Commissioned as a Honorary Kentucky Colonel from the Governor of Kentucky for his charitable services, locally, nationally & globally. This has also lead to him being Commissioned as a Honorary Admiral in the Texas Navy awarded by the Governor of the State of Texas. He was awarded the Platinum Award of the U.S. President's Challenge which is the Highest Award of the President's Council on Fitness, Sport and Nutrition. This was awarded due to contribution & promoting Heath & Fitness.

He is the adopted son of His Majesty Ampun Sultan Muedzul Lail Tan Kiram of Sulu