

The concept of CVA does not provide answers. Instead, it identifies peer-reviewed scientific facts and offers value-based options that can be used by clinical professionals as part of comparative effectiveness to select the optimal option that provides a clinical science-based solution at the lowest cost.