Your Health Information and Our Privacy/Payments Policy

Our practice respects your right to privacy and it has systems and processes in place to ensure it complies with the Australian Privacy Principles.

Our practice collects information about you for the purpose of providing health services to you. In addition, personal information such as your name, address and health insurance details are used for the purpose of addressing accounts to you, as well as processing payments and writing to you about our services and any issues affecting your health care. We may collect information about you from third parties providing the collection of that information is necessary to provide you with health care.

If you choose not to provide us with information relevant to your care, we may not be able to provide a service to you, or the service we are asked to provide may not be appropriate for your needs.

Your medical history, treatment records, x-rays and any other material relevant to your care will be stored by the practice. The practice privacy policy sets out how you can access your records.

We respect your privacy and this information is held in the strictest confidence.

Full payment is required at the time of consultation. In the event that bad debt is established the responsible party will be held accountable for the total account balanced plus any fees incurred in collection of the debt.

If you are unable to attend, please give us 24 hour's notice.
Frequent late cancelations or failures to attend may incur a charge.
