Trilogy III

Trilogy III is out to show the industry that they are indeed an up and coming force. They have rocked crowds at The Fillmore, The Lincoln Theatre and Sound Stage. They're endorsed by and performed with Bone Thugs -N- Harmony in Cleveland, New York, Virginia & DC to name a few. For ease of reference, Trilogy consists of three rapping brothers: Joshua “J Smallz”, Nate “Doejah Chronic” and Jason “Skootie” Marsh.

Smallz is the oldest of Trilogy III. Smallz remembers what his father taught him, “Even though the streets were there, you could be in them, but not of them”.

Doejah Chronic is particularly proud that the sixth track, from their debut album, entitled “My City,” was played on 93.9 Kiss or Dis It and broke a record for its positive feedback. The group has been compared to the sound of Tupac & Bone Thugs-N- Harmony.

Skootie has worked on Trilogy’s debut album “Show’em” as well as Nu-Era’s debut album “Dawn of a Nu-Era” as assistant-engineer, co-producer, writer, and co-writer.

Skootie studied under the guidance of famed music engineer Paul Minor. Mr. Minor has worked with such artists as Al Johnson, Earth Wind & Fire, and The Whispers.
