

Annual Meeting of the Person Memory Interest Group
2002
At the Salt Fork State Park in Cambridge, Ohio

Steven Ad Van Knippenberg, University of Nijmegen

Mood and Social Categorization

John Jost, Stanford University

System Justifying Effects of 'Poor but Happy' and 'Poor but Honest' Stereotype Exemplars

Melissa Ferguson, Cornell University

Automatic Attitudes Signify the Current Goal Relevance of the Objects

Ayalet Fishbach, University of Chicago

Automatic Processes in Overcoming Temptations

Tanya Chartrand, Ohio State University

Nonconscious Goal Mimicry: Exploring a Perception-Goal Link

Rick Van Baaren, University of Nijmegen

Mimicry and Pro-social Behavior

Steven J. Sherman, Indiana University

2002 Thomas M. Ostrom Award Address

The Legacy of Tom Ostrom: A Tale of Two Eclectics

Simone Schnall, University of Virginia

Embodied Cognition, Embodied Emotion

Irene Blair, University of Colorado

A Feature-Based Approach to Stereotyping

Jeff Sherman, Northwestern University

More Than Two Ways to Skin a Cat: A Quadruple Process Model of Social Psychology