Air Quality Bureau

Permits Bulletin

We have extended the deadline to comment on the modeling results we published on 4/15/2016, adding one month to the previous deadline. The new deadline is 5/30/2016.

For your reference, we are including the text of our previous e-mail announcing our preliminary modeling results below:

"The Air Quality Bureau, Permitting Section has been working on a new General Construction Permit (GCP) for oil and gas facilities. It will be named "GCP - Oil and Gas" and will replace both the current GCP-1 and GCP-4 permits.

We have completed preliminary modeling for this new GCP. These preliminary modeling results can be found at a link at the top of the Air Quality Bureau, Permitting home page:

<https://www.env.nm.gov/aqb/permit/index.htm>

These preliminary modeling results are DRAFT and prior to implementing it, we are seeking your comments. If you would like to respond, please e-mail your comments to Eric Peters at the following e-mail address:

eric.peters@state.nm.us

Your comments are a valuable part of our process, increasing the quality of the final product. Our intention is to review your comments, make appropriate changes, and include the resulting condition(s) into the DRAFT GCP - Oil and Gas permit. We hope to publish the DRAFT GCP - Oil and Gas permit in early May, at which time we will be seeking your comments on it.

For additional information concerning this bulletin, please contact Ted Schooley at ted.schooley@state.nm.us
