

Mr B / 3^e / Pronoms relatifs

The Globbish, whose scientific name is Globa Luna Phalanea, usually lives among reed beds, where they can hide from the humans. As they are rather fearful creatures, Globbishes tend to leave their hiding place only when the sun comes down. The butterfly-like wings ☞ they have are the reason why evil people would hunt them for. Legend has it their wings, whose blue color makes them so visible, will bring you eternal life, if you eat them.

Mr B / 3^e / Pronoms relatifs

The Globbish, whose scientific name is Globa Luna Phalanea, usually lives among reed beds, where they can hide from the humans. As they are rather fearful creatures, Globbishes tend to leave their hiding place only when the sun comes down. The butterfly-like wings ☞ they have are the reason why evil people would hunt them for. Legend has it their wings, whose blue color makes them so visible, will bring you eternal life, if you eat them.

Mr B / 3^e / Pronoms relatifs

The Globbish, whose scientific name is Globa Luna Phalanea, usually lives among reed beds, where they can hide from the humans. As they are rather fearful creatures, Globbishes tend to leave their hiding place only when the sun comes down. The butterfly-like wings ☞ they have are the reason why evil people would hunt them for. Legend has it their wings, whose blue color makes them so visible, will bring you eternal life, if you eat them.

Mr B / 3^e / Pronoms relatifs

The Globbish, whose scientific name is Globa Luna Phalanea, usually lives among reed beds, where they can hide from the humans. As they are rather fearful creatures, Globbishes tend to leave their hiding place only when the sun comes down. The butterfly-like wings ☞ they have are the reason why evil people would hunt them for. Legend has it their wings, whose blue color makes them so visible, will bring you eternal life, if you eat them.

