Tealed with a kiss

Perfectly gorgeous, we're smitten with this stunning silk dupion dress for your flowergirl from littlebevan.co.uk. This 'Amy' dress is available in ages 2-10 and costs £145. Team with crisp, classic white and a sprinkling of sparkle for a Tiffany's-inspired day...

Check out The Perfume Portrait experience (ormondejayne.com) for a scentsational journey that highlights your favourite 'fragrance family' (sweet, musky, exotic etc), and picks out the best scent to suit!

Do the polka

Candy-coated frills, cute turn-up sleeves and polka dots? In one outfit?! We love this fun and flirty '50s-inspired dress from avintagewedding.co.uk, the perfect look for bridesmaids on a retro-themed day. With a selection of 'one-off' couture vintage gowns and accessories from the 1930s to the 1980s, A Vintage Wedding is your one-stop boutique for all the glitz and glamour (or funk and flair!) of these decadent decades!

Head girl

Just because we're feeling in the teal-zone (see above), we couldn't resist this bejewelled beauty from rosieweisencrantz.com, £135. With aquamarine vintage rhinestones and glass beads, this would bedazzle any maids' look. (Or, why not keep it, er, under your hat, and tie in a teal-themed day with this headband as the bride's 'something blue'?!)

Time at the bar

Keep little girls busy during the reception with this brilliant idea from beadoirme.co.uk. Their 'Bead Bar' lets little ones (ok, big ones too) create gorgeous bracelets, bookmarks, necklaces and glass trinkets, and can even be themed and coloured to match the wedding!

We go together

Slumber parties with your best girls are a must in the build-up to the big day. Cosy up in style with the gorgeous, peachy perfect Ella range of sleepwear from £20 from monsoon.co.uk. And the pink grapefruit vodka from belvederevodka.com? Well, let's just say this takes care of the 'party' bit in 'slumber party'...
