Status:

Senate Bill 004 – Place Federal Naturalization Service under Dept. of Justice

Introduced By: President of the Senate, Stephen Luke

Latest Action: Passed The House, on the way to the President 10-23-2018

Parliament Members in Session:

- Senate President Stephen Luke
- Senator Sarah Estrada, President pro tempore
- Representative David McGee, House Speaker
- Representative Valeriano Anibarro
- Representative Pradip Bhattacharya

Summary:

Since its inception, the Federal Naturalization Service, responsible for issuing and revoking citizenship, has not been under the proper guidance or leadership, nor any department. This proposal would put the Department of Justice in control of the FNS, providing monitoring and regulation. The FNS would maintain its current director, however that person would answer to the Attorney General during conflicts of naturalization. At this moment, Senate President Luke does not feel it necessary to create a brand new department, as we do not have the staffing for it.

Proposal:

Place Federal Naturalization Service under Department of Justice, as a sub-division.
