

HEGELIAN DIALECTIC

Hegelian Dialectic is a framework for guiding thoughts and actions into conflicts that lead to fake solutions which can only be introduced once those being manipulated take a side that will advance the predetermined agenda. Controlled opposition, problem-reaction-solution. In politics this idea has been used for thousands of years. You create the problem to produce the change, bring about the direction that you really want everyone to go, but you have to swing the general mindset to go in a particular direction in order to get there.

Biblically speaking it is simply witchcraft. “Witchcraft is the manipulation, domination, or control of anyone or any group of people by any means other than the Holy Spirit.”

Realistically, almost all those in authority of all secular organizations, businesses; from small community groups, mayors of town's, cities, right up to Presidents, Prime Ministers, King's and Queen's etc. use witchcraft to get what they want, whether they realize it or not. Some know exactly what they are doing in the demonic realm, they are part of the New World Order of things. Some just want to control and manipulate others for their ego. Those manipulating usually do it for financial reasons.

Manipulating people is normal for a large percentage of the population, especially those who control the world's finances, that's why we can clearly say that Satan is the god of this earth. Through his "workers of iniquity" (lawless servants), many involved in secret societies who specialize in witchcraft, he controls all those who are not truly born again in this world. If you've ever paid attention to politicians you will see how they are constantly making deals back and forth so their particular legislation will make it through. They are making deals undercover in order to get what they want for their party. Again, it's witchcraft, commonly called politics.

Those who are born again are part of the Kingdom of Yah, which is in complete contradiction to the others, live in this corrupt world, but are not part of it. They are affected by it in many worldly ways while residing on earth, but await their spiritual Kingdom to come, when all those sinless wicked people will be placed in the Lake of Fire for their eternal reward.

PROBLEM, REACTION, SOLUTION

Let's look at an example of Hegelian Dialectic in common use on a regular basis in our personal lives.

A You recognize or establish a problem, real or not, it makes no difference. Let's say your not receiving enough attention.

B The "reaction" is that you invent drama, catastrophes, illnesses, cause fear, to cause focus on the problem.

C The "solution" is; you receive attention from family, friends, strangers, etc.

Let's assume you want a particular religious agenda to be instituted. You know that secular society will not allow you to force this upon them. Instead, you bring in an opposing view, an exact opposite view which becomes totally unacceptable to the populous, forcing them in the direction of where you want them to go. In this way, you manipulate people into doing what you want them to do without directly pointing them in that direction. This is like taking a pendulum and swinging it all the way to the side you don't want it to go to, and letting it go. It will swing back to where you want it to go with a very strong force.

Forty four presidents of the US carried European bloodlines into office. Thirty four have been genetic descendants from just one person. Charlemagne, the brutal eighth century King of the Franks. Nineteen of them directly descended from King Edward the third of England. In fact, the president with the most royal genes has won every single America election. (This information come from the Burkes Peerage, which is the bible of aristocratic genealogy, based in London). Every Presidential election in America, since and including George Washington in 1789 to Bill Clinton, has been won by the candidate with the most British and French royal genes. Of the forty two Presidents to Clinton, thirty three have been related to two people: Alfred the Great, King of England, and Charlemagne, the most famous monarch of France. So it goes on: nineteen of them are related to England's Edward the third, who has 2000 blood connections to Prince Charles.

What the ruling elite does, and have been doing for centuries, is create reactions which requires solutions they had wanted all along. The reaction (e.g. 9/11) puts citizens in a state of fear and anxiety that allows easily implementation of the solution without resistance.

One way you know the government is using the Hegelian dialectic to fulfill their agenda is when they have a ready-made solution immediately after an event, all without public debate.

In a sense Hegelian dialectic is like reverse psychology, get the person to do exactly what you want them to do by pushing them the exact opposite way. Get them to do what you want them to do by pushing them or causing them fear of the issue you don't want them to do, until they are overwhelmed by it and go the opposite way.

A related use of the Hegelian dialectic is to create the appearance of healthy governmental opposition. We see this in the United States where both Democrats and Republicans are two heads of the same body. They create a theatre show for the public that two opposing forces are debating and compromising to serve the interests of the nation when they are actually both controlled by the same globalists who donate money to both parties. The "cuckservative phenomenon" has shown that mainstream conservatives are nearly identical to the left besides a few hot button issues like abortion and religion (they have even converged on homosexual marriage).

In the West the choice is basically between a controlled 'left-oriented' information, and a controlled 'right-oriented' information. The conflict between the two CONTROLLED groups keeps an apparent informational conflict alive. Unwelcome facts that fall into either camp are conveniently forgotten. Books that fall into either camp can be effectively neutralized because they will incur the wrath of both 'right' and 'left'. "The faster the cattle run, the faster the treadmill takes them to nowhere".

To sum it all up it would be appropriate to say what Hitler once said: "if you tell a lie long enough, it becomes truth".
