LAW SCHOOL REQUIRED DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

9. Guideline 11.3 of the Guidelines for Unaccredited Law School Rules Provides:

“The method of instruction at this law school for professional law degree programs other than for the Juris Doctor degree is principally in physical classroom facilities. Completion of a professional law degree program at this school other than for the Juris Doctor degree does not qualify a student to take the California Bar Examination or to satisfy the requirements for admission to practice law in California. It may not qualify a student to take the bar examination or to satisfy the requirements for admission to practice of law in any jurisdiction. A student intending to seek admission to practice law should contact the admitting authority in the jurisdictions where the students intends to seek to qualify to sit for the bar examination or for admission to practice for information regarding the legal education requirements in that jurisdiction for admission to practice of law.”

10. Guideline 2.3(D) of the Guidelines for Unaccredited Law School Rules Provides:

“The method of instruction at this law school for the Juris Doctor (J.D.) degree program is principally in physical classroom facilities.

Students enrolled in the J.D. degree program at this law school who successfully complete the first year of law study must pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination required by Business and Professions Code § 6060(h) and Rule VIII of the Rules Regulating Admission to Practice Law in California as part of the requirements to qualify to take the California Bar Examination. A student who passes the First-Year Law Students' Examination within three (3) administrations of the examination after first becoming eligible to take it will receive credit for all legal studies completed to the time the examination is passed. A student who does not pass the examination within three (3) administrations of the examination after first becoming eligible to take it must be promptly disqualified from the law school's J.D. degree program. If the dismissed student subsequently passes the examination, the student is eligible for re-enrollment in this law school's J.D. degree program, but will receive credit for only one year of legal study.

Study at, or graduation from, this law school may not qualify a student to take the bar examination or to satisfy the requirements for admission to practice in jurisdictions other than California. A student intending to seek admission to practice law in a jurisdiction other than California should contract the admitting authority in that jurisdiction for information regarding the legal education requirements in that jurisdiction for admission to the practice of law."

DISCLOSURE STATEMENTS TO ALL PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

11. Guideline 5.21 of the Guidelines for Unaccredited Law School Rules 5.21 First-Year Law Students' Examination.

An applicant who is required to take the First-Year Law Students' Examination (FYLSE) will not receive credit from the Committee for any law study until he or she has passed the examination. Students successfully completing their first year of law study at an unaccredited law school must take and pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination within three (3) administrations after first becoming eligible to take it. Only one year of law study will be granted if the examination is passed on an attempt later than within three (3) administrations of the examination after the student becomes eligible to take it.

12. Guideline 5.22 of the Guidelines for Unaccredited Law School Rules 5.22 Disqualification of Students for Failure to Pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination.

A student who does not pass the First-Year Law Students' Examination within three (3) administrations after first becoming eligible to take the examination must be promptly disqualified from a law school's J.D. program. A student who passes the First-Year Law Students' Examination within three (3) administrations after first becoming eligible to take it will receive credit for all legal studies completed to the time the examination is passed.

A student who does not pass within the three (3) administrations after first becoming eligible to take it, but who subsequently passes, is eligible for re-enrollment in the law school's J.D. program, but will receive credit for only one year of legal study.

13. Each applicant must read the additional disclosure statements in the Pacific West College of Law website. URL: <http://www.pacificwestcollege.com/required-disclosure>

14. Each Applicant MUST read the Business and Professions Code Section 6061.7(a) Reporting Requirements and the Pacific West College of Law Attrition Rate located at the Pacific West College of Law website under ADMISSION page. URL: <https://www.pacificwestcollege.com/admissions>

15. Pacific West College of Law adopted the 80% Attendance Policy as follows:

80% ATTENDANCE POLICY

A student at Pacific West College of Law is required and MUST attend at least 80% of the regularly scheduled class hours in each course in order to satisfy the Residency Requirement set forth under Guidelines 5.3(A)(1) of the Guideline for Unaccredited Law School Rules.

Each three (3) unit class is required to have 45 hours of classroom instruction. Eighty percent of that would be 36 hours. Student are only allowed 3 maximum absences in each course or class otherwise he or she will be dropped.

A student is not allowed to make up a class that the student was deemed absent as define below.

Absence

A student who is not present for a period of time during a class session, without consent of the Professor should be deemed "absent" for the entire class session.

Note: Since law school 80% attendance is a statutory requirement in California, absence is never considered to be "excused"; the student is either "present" or "absent".

Consequences of Failure to attend 80% attendance

The consequence of not being present for 80% of class time is that the student will be "dropped" from the class and the student will:

- (1) Have to retake the class to earn credit for that course of the students' academic degree;
- (2) The student may lose "Bar Residency" for that semester so that the student will have to take another ENTIRE semester to complete the students four years of law school:
- (3) The time limit for the student to take and pass the FYLSX shall not change:
- (4) The student may petition to receive a pro-rata tuition refund.

16. Disclosure Statement on the 45-day Rule as follows:

45-Day Rule

The California Committee of Bar Examiners requires the school to have complete files on each entering student prior to the 45th day after classes begin, if the student is to be permitted to remain in school as a regular student. Every student MUST comply with the 45-day rule in submitting all the necessary and required documents in connection with the attending law school.

Pacific West gives the students 30 DAYS to complete submission of the required documents such as transcript(s), letter of recommendations etc. If not completed within the 30 days, student have the 15 day extension to comply.

This disclosure statement must be provided to each new student upon payment of an application fee, but before payment of a registration fee, and to each returning student, prior to payment of any fee for an academic term. This disclosure must be signed by the student, who must receive a copy of the signed statement.
